

To whom it may concern..

I have had the pleasure of coaching Aleksandr over the last year as part of the senior boys rugby team here at argyle, aleks has been a model player for us and a fantastic team mate, watching his desire to improve has been brilliant aleks worked diligently over the course of the year to improve his skill set and his game knowledge and really impressed the coaches during our play off run, despite not being a starter aleks was at every training session, he conducted himself fantastically, helping with whatever the team needed and always being a positive influence on the team and preparing in a way that allowed him to stay ready whenever called upon.

On a more personal note I have always found aleks a very personable, respectful and humble young man possessing a keen sense of humour, great ability to take on feedback and studious mind. Around the school I have always heard good things from my colleagues and can ascertain from these conversations that aleks applies the same hard working nature I have seen on the rugby pitch to his studies as well and would whole heartedly recommend him for your program.

In closing as I said above I would have absolutely no problem recommending aleks for your program and have every faith that he will apply the qualities that have made him such a valued member of both the argyle student and rugby communities towards his future studies.
